RATIONALE

A very good morning to the honourable President, Dr. Sr. Shyji P D, Principal, St. Joseph's College for Women (Autonomous), Visakhapatnam; the distinguished Chief Guest, Smt. Roshni Aparanji Korati, IAS, Deputy Chairperson, Visakhapatnam Port Authority; the esteemed Guest of Honour, Prof. M. Prasada Rao, Former Head, Department of Economics and Former Rector, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam; the respected Guest of Honour, Dr. K. Suneetha, Associate Professor and Former Head, Department of Applied Psychology, GITAM School of Humanities and Social Science, GITAM University, Visakhapatnam; respected Heads of the Departments, faculty members from SJCW and other institutions, participants from colleges and universities, and dear students of SJCW. Good morning to one and all. The Department of Economics, St. Joseph's College for Women (Autonomous), Visakhapatnam, extends a very warm welcome to all the dignitaries, participants, and students gathered for this Two-Day National Seminar on Investment and Inclusive Growth in AP: Pathways to Sustainable Development. Andhra Pradesh stands at a critical juncture in its economic journey. As a newly reorganized state endowed with rich natural resources, a strategic coastline, and a young and dynamic population, the state holds tremendous potential for accelerated and broad-based economic growth. However, translating this potential into tangible and equitable development requires a thorough understanding of investment patterns, policy frameworks, and inclusive strategies that ensure no section of society is left behind. Investment, both domestic and foreign, plays a pivotal role in driving industrial expansion, infrastructure development, employment generation, and technological advancement. Yet, investment alone is insufficient if its benefits are not distributed equitably across all regions and communities. Inclusive growth therefore becomes an indispensable companion to investment- one that bridges the gap between economic progress and social equity, ensuring that marginalized communities, rural populations, women, and other vulnerable groups actively participate in and benefit from the state's development trajectory. Sustainable development adds yet another critical dimension to this discourse. Growth that depletes natural resources, strains ecological systems, or creates long-term socio-economic imbalances is neither desirable nor viable. It is imperative that the pathways to development in Andhra Pradesh are designed with sustainability at their core -carefully balancing economic ambitions with environmental responsibility and social justice. This seminar brings together economists, policymakers, academicians, researchers, and students to engage in meaningful dialogue on these deeply interconnected themes. Through keynote addresses, expert deliberations, and research paper presentations, participants are provided with the opportunity to explore current trends in investment, examine inclusive growth models, critically analyze existing policies, and propose forward-looking strategies suited to the unique socio-economic context of Andhra Pradesh. Platforms such as this are essential for nurturing informed and research-oriented thinking among students and early-career scholars, equipping them with the intellectual tools necessary to contribute meaningfully to the economic and social development of the state and the nation at large. The seminar is envisioned as a space for collaborative learning, academic exchange, and the generation of policy-relevant insights that can inform the future growth story of Andhra Pradesh.

REGISTRATION DESK

Inaugural Session - Lightening of the lamp and addressing the students

LECTURE: The Chief Guest, Smt. Roshni Aparanji Korati, IAS, Deputy Chairperson, Visakhapatnam Port Authority, delivered the Inaugural Address. She spoke on the current investment landscape of Andhra Pradesh, highlighting the key policy initiatives and infrastructure developments undertaken by the state to attract both domestic and foreign investment. She further stressed the significance of sustainable development as a guiding principle for all future economic planning in the state.

LECTURE: The Guest of Honour, Prof. M. Prasada Rao, Former Head, Department of Economics and Former Rector, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, delivered the Keynote Address. He spoke on the theoretical foundations of investment and inclusive growth, drawing from decades of academic research and teaching experience in the field of Economics. He elaborated on the historical trajectory of economic development in Andhra Pradesh, highlighting the structural challenges and opportunities that have shaped the state.

LECTURE: The Guest of Honour, Dr. K. Suneetha, Associate Professor and Former Head, Department of Applied Psychology, GITAM School of Humanities and Social Science, GITAM University, Visakhapatnam, addressed the gathering with a unique interdisciplinary perspective. She spoke on the psychological dimensions of inclusive growth, emphasizing that sustainable development is not merely an economic phenomenon but is deeply rooted in the mental well-being, motivation, and social consciousness of individuals and communities. She highlighted how behavioural and psychological factors influence investment decisions, entrepreneurial mindset, and community participation in development processes.

The Vote of Thanks for Day 1 was proposed by Dr. S. Suneetha Kumari, who expressed heartfelt gratitude to the President, Dr. Sr. Shyji P. D., and the Chief Guest, Roshni Aparanji Korati, IAS for their inspiring presence and guidance. She sincerely thanked the Guests of Honour, Prof. M. Prasada Rao and Dr. K. Suneetha, for their valuable and enlightening addresses. She also appreciated all faculty members, organizers, and participants for contributing to the success of the inaugural day.

DAY-2
VALEDICTORY SESSION:

- President - Dr. Sr. Shyji P D, Principal, SJCW (A)
- Chief Guest - Prof. B. Lily Grace Eunice, Head, Department of Economics & Honorary Director, Agro-Economics Research Centre, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam
- Guest of Honour- Prof. K. Parameswara Rao, Department of Economics, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam
- Guest of Honour- Prof. B. Nalini, Head, Department of Applied Psychology, GITAM School of Humanities & Social Science, GITAM University, Visakhapatnam
- Convener- Dr. P. Ramani Latha, Incharge Head, Department of Economics, SJCW (A)

LECTURE: Prof. B. Lily Grace Eunice, Head, Department of Economics and Honorary Director of the Agro-Economics Research Centre, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, delivered the Valedictory Address as the Chief Guest of the concluding session. She commended the Department of Economics, SJCW, for organizing a seminar of such academic relevance and national significance, and appreciated the enthusiasm and active participation of the students and researchers throughout the two days.. She concluded by encouraging students to pursue research in the field of economics with dedication and a sense of social responsibility, reminding them that true development is measured by the well-being of the last person in society. The valedictory address was received with great appreciation and left the participants deeply motivated and inspired as they concluded two days of enriching academic engagement.

LECTURE: Prof. K. Parameswara Rao, Department of Economics, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam, addressed the gathering as the Distinguished Guest during the Valedictory Session. He spoke extensively on the macroeconomic dimensions of investment and its role in shaping the growth trajectory of Andhra Pradesh. He highlighted the significance of public investment in infrastructure, agriculture, and human capital development as essential drivers of inclusive and sustainable growth. He further elaborated on the need for sound economic policies that attract private investment while ensuring equitable distribution of resources across all regions of the state.

LECTURE: Prof. B. Nalini, Head, Department of Applied Psychology, GITAM School of Humanities and Social Science, GITAM University, Visakhapatnam, delivered an engaging and thought-provoking address during the Valedictory Session. She approached the theme of inclusive growth from a psychological and human-centered perspective, emphasizing the importance of mental well-being and social inclusion in the development process. She highlighted how psychological empowerment of marginalized communities, women, and youth is a prerequisite for achieving truly inclusive and sustainable development.

STUDENT PRESENTERS: The Two-Day National Seminar also provided a valuable platform for student participants from various colleges and universities to present their research papers and seminar presentations on themes aligned with Investment, Inclusive Growth, and Sustainable Development in Andhra Pradesh. Students showcased commendable research acumen and analytical thinking, presenting well-structured papers that reflected their understanding of contemporary economic challenges and policy frameworks. The presentations covered a wide range of sub-themes including regional investment patterns, women's economic, sustainable development goals, demonstrating the breadth and depth of student engagement with the seminar's core theme.

CERTIFICATE DISTRIBUTION

The Certificate Distribution ceremony was held as part of the Valedictory Session, marking a proud and memorable moment for all the participants of the Two-Day National Seminar on "Investment & Inclusive Growth in AP: Pathways to Sustainable Development." The certificates were distributed by the Chief Guest, Prof. B. Lily Grace Eunice, and the Guests of Honour, Prof. K. Parameswara Rao and Prof. B. Nalini, in the gracious presence of the President, Dr. Sr. Shyji P D, Principal, SJCW (A). Each participant was recognized for their active engagement, research contributions, and enthusiastic participation throughout the two days of the seminar.

During the Valedictory Session on Day 2, Dr. P. Ramani Latha proposed the Vote of Thanks, conveying her heartfelt appreciation to the President, Dr. Sr. Shyji P. D., for her unwavering support; to the Chief Guest, B. Lily Grace Eunice, Head, Department of Economics and Honorary Director, Agro-Economics Research Centre, Andhra University, for her inspiring valedictory address encouraging socially responsible research in economics; to the Distinguished Guests, Prof. K. Parameswara Rao for his valuable insights into the macroeconomic dimensions of investment and public policy, and Prof. B. Nalini for emphasizing psychological empowerment and inclusive development as cornerstones of sustainable growth. She expressed special appreciation to all student presenters for their commendable research work and analytical presentations, and thanked the organizing committee, faculty coordinators, volunteers, and participants whose dedication ensured the grand success of the seminar. She concluded by noting that the two days of deliberations had not only deepened academic understanding of investment and inclusive growth in Andhra Pradesh but also strengthened the spirit of research, collaboration, and commitment toward sustainable and equitable development, thereby bringing the seminar to a meaningful and inspiring close.
